++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy rain and strengthening winds.

Today:
Cloudy to start with rain, heavy for some, over North Wales. This rain will soon cover the most of Wales by early afternoon and will become heavy for most too. Winds strengthening along the coast. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Heavy rain will continue to affect all overnight before largely clearing by dawn. Milder, but windy, with strengthening winds further inland. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Tuesday:
Clear skies in the north and west with cloud elsewhere and lingering light rain over the far southeast. Winds much lighter than during the night. Feeling a little colder. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Outbreaks of heavy rain on Wednesday and milder. Drier on Thursday with sunny spells and isolated showers. Dry but cloudy on Friday.
